

Ogden Newspapers Community Grant Program

The Intelligencer.

Wheeling News-Register

We are deeply committed to the community.

Ogden Newspapers, the parent company of The Intelligencer/Wheeling News-Register, has established a $1 million fund to help local businesses get back to full strength by subsidizing their marketing through matching grants. Local businesses can now apply for these advertising grants to help recover from the effects of the coronavirus crisis.

How Will It Work for My Business?

The fund is open to all locally owned and operated businesses impacted by the coronavirus, whether they are current advertisers or not.

The Grant can be used for local print and online advertising with The Intelligencer / Wheeling News-Register between April 1 and June 30, 2020.

Grants are available for a minimum of $200 and a maximum of $5,000 of matching funds each month.

How Do I Apply?

Applications must be applied for monthly at:
<https://ogdennews.com/community-grant>

The Intelligencer/Wheeling News-Register will respond within 48 hours.

A community newspaper is only ever as strong as the community it serves.
We know businesses and workers are hurting, we're hurting too.
But if we can pull together as a community, we can weather this.
